In a recent number of the Tribane, a brief motice is taken of inquiries concerning "General Scott's religion." I suppose that reply was written, or at least that it is approved, by you, as you now intend to support Gen. Scott for the Presidency. In first reply it is said, "It will be a said day for our country when any considerable number of voxes for President can be influenced by the religious professions of the rival candidates." If this be so, Mr. Greeley, then I trust that the result of our next Presidential election will prove that a "said day" has come. It will, at all events, prove a said day to the whig parly.

How can you, after what you have found it necessary to write against the opposition of Roman Catholies to Free Schools, and the free toleration of Religion, now support for President aman who, if what has been written is true, has had a daughter of ucated in the Roman Catholic religion, and who himself, when in command of our army in Mexico, ordered his mun to kneed to a Roman Catholic procession as it passed? We may certainly expect that such a man will make any concession or use may influence in his promotion secured, if it were the kneeding of this whole nation at the foot of the Pope that they might kiss his toe. I trust that it will be seen that, if Ministers have nothing to do with be politics, they have something to do with be politics, they have something to do with politics, they have something to do towerd protecting the freedom of the Protestant Religion; and that, not for the make of their religion nerely, but because (as you know it does) this religion iles at the very foundation of our educational civil and social welfare. I shall do what I can, and so will thousands of ministers, to prevent those over whom I have influence in have in the and is one step toward another "St. Enchlorious"s Day." If I were to continue to take a paper that supports indirectly, the without intention, the opposite of Learning, Liberty that the legion is each their religion. Please discontinue to send the ### Charabeille, Jone 20, 1852.

Remarks on the above.

So we have got at the bottom of the Religious forw on Gen. Scott at last. There is no pretense that he is not a Christian, and a moral, upright, manifolious man; it is not even asserted that he is a Cathodie; but "the very head and from of the Gending halt his extent, no more"—I. He may had a daughter educated a Cathodie; 2, he arroard his troops, while in Mexico, to pay the customary and there universal mark of respect to a tichgrous procession passing them in the streets.

It has had his daughter educated a Cathodie; Suppose his daughter had herself educated in that faith—what them? What sort of thumbscown and fetters would Mr. Fuller have had then be street and her by force from a Cathodie syminary and pretent her imbiling Catholic opinisms? All that sents to be known of the matter is that Miss Motter—we know not at what age—chose to be chosed as a Catholic, and has since continued in that faith. In a matter so purely personal and to interestly introvation at a deader who would constrain and coerce his child's fee choice—that child being old mough to make a chance—would be as tyrmmical an inquigitor as Spain ever knew. In assailing Gen. Scott's conduct in a matter whereof so little is elegely known, Mr. Fuller shows us what sort of Toleration he towns—und it is one from which we pray to be electrone delivered.

—Then as Gen. Scott's deference to Catholic coronains in Mexico; consider the facts:—Gen. Remarks on the above.

Then as Gen. Scott's deference to Catholic ceremonies in Mexico; consider the facts:—Gen. Scott was at the head of an invading, conquering army in the very heart of the Mexican Republic. He had been thus far victorious—wonderfully so—against all opposing forces; and one great cause of this was the indifference of the Mexican millions. Had these been thoroughly roused to hosof this was the indifference of the Mexican milions. Had these been thoroughly cossed to hoselity, they would have annihilated our whole arroy before the news could have reached New Oriems that they were belienguered and in danger. Now the vast population of Central Mexico are not remarkably patriotic, but they are intensely idigious. A recent writer on the lower class elepton) of Mexico—those who have nothing, do into or nothing, steep in the open air and pick ap a miserable living any how—says:—"You and deary the Republic, and they listen with complete indifference; but lisp one word against our Lady of Candialoupe (their patron saint) and look out for the kuife!"

Sauta Anna and his supporters know this right

Lady of Guadaloupe (their patron sant) and look out for the kuife!"

Santa Anna and his supportors know this right well, and had vainly attempted to rouse the 'grenses' to huri themsolves on our lines by representing the Americans as Infidels, Heretics, dec, who had invaded Mexico on purpose to overturn the Catholic faith and ostablish Protestantism in its stead. Could they have made the multitude reality believe this. Gen. Scott could never have cut his vary to the City of Mexico—or, at least, not without this slaughter of thousands of his own men and teas of thousands of their enemies. Had the Mexicosia felt that their religion was in danger, we do not believe any thirty thousand men even with Gen. Scott as their commander, could have believe their capital, or held it if taken. Nay, in such a war as that, many of Gen. Scott's own teases, their capital, or held it if taken. Nay, in such a war as that, many of Gen. Scott's own teases, their capital, or held it if taken. Nay, in such a war as that, many of Gen. Scott's own teases, their capital of the overthrow of their Church.

Any refusal of that respect by our fruly would have shocked the Mexicans as implicits, infidel, blasphenous. It would have thilled with horror the entire population of Central Mexico, and been represented by bestile uniswaits as a proof that the Americans had made wer on Mexico in order to overthrow her alters and make ship wrock of her faith. From Mr. Herce's Letter of Acceptance.

I accept the nomination upon the Platform adopted by the Convention, not because it is expected of me us a candidate, but because the principles it embraces command the approbation of majodgement; and I think I can safely say, that there has been no read or action of my life in conflict with it? The party leaders who have nominated Mr.

PIERCE for the Presidency of the United States, declare, in the same breath, their uncompromising opposition to Internal Improvements by the Gencorporation to interest improvements by the con-eral Government. Mr. Piesce himself, in accept-ing that nomination, accepts the platform like-wise; not only because ha thinks it his duty, as a candidate, to do so; but because it embodies his own cherished principles. Nay more; he boasts that "no word or action of his life" has been "in conflict with it." So far as the great question of Internal Improvement is concerned, Mr. Prancz is indisputably right. "No word or action of his life" can be pointed to, that does not manifest settled and unyielding hostility to this leading interest of the North-West. Mr Pienex stands upon the record as having opposed first, last, and all the time, every River and Harbor bill introduced into Congress during his brief career in that body. And Mr. W. R. Kino, his lieutenant, occupies precisely the same position. He was among the most carnest and most unyielding opponents of the River and Harbor bill at the session of 1850-251. On the last day of that session, during the memorable struggle on this bill, the minority of the Senate, led on by WM. R. KING, resorted to all sorts of factions pro ceedings to delay, or defeat its passage. On the nine different motions made during the day, relative to the bill, WILLIAM R. KING, the Democratic nominee for the Vice Presidency, voted invariably against it. As the whole West remembers, it was finally defeated by the factious course of the minority. And now the West is invited to reward the en who defeated this River and Harbor Bill .--They are coully asked to vote for two acknowlhe Government, in the keeping of men who are ulterly and irreconcileably hostile to Western Interest. Is the West ready for this self-stultification ? Are the People of Wisconsin prepared for such a acrifice? Have Messrs, Prence and Kine done so much for the country that their obnaxious priniples are to be overlooked, their hostile votes for gotten, and the Presidency and Vice Presidency bestowed upon them as the reward for long and faithful public service? Will not the West rather, now that the opportunity is offered it, make known its ability and determination to cased the Justice it has so long asked in vain? Will it not, for once, discriminate between its friends and its enemies, and vote for those who have always stood up for its interests? Will it not, with one roice, proclaim its preference for Scott and Gna-BAM, the advocates of Internal Improvements, the riends of Home Industry, the supporters of Western Interests, and the faithful and well-tried ser-

Scott Celebration.

Some of the Scott boys had an interesting time of it on Monday in celebrating the anniversary of the battle of Chippewa, over hasty bowls of turtle soup, at Bayerd's, State-st. The whole affair passed over harmoniously, with no drawback to mar the proceedings. It was announced that some of the most active Democrats, heretofore, in the First, and, in fact, every other Ward of the City, had concluded to support Old Chippewa mext November.—X. Y. Tribuna, 7th inst.

Just so here! We know of scores, aye hundreds of good Democrats who will vote for Scott and GRAHAM, not only because they like the men, but They know that in supporting Gen. Scott, they strike a good blow for Encouragement to Hone Industry; for Protection to the Interests of the West; for River and Harbor Improvements; and for the honor and welfare of the whole country.

A GLORIOUS CATALOGIE.

Genl. Scorr's services to his country have been so numerous, and continued through so long a arised of time, that the length of a newspaper article is not sufficient for even a passing notice of them all. The following catalogue of them, prepared by the Cincinnati Gazette, is worthy of preservation, and careful attention : - preservation, and careful attention:—

Gen. Winfield Scott was commissioned a captain of tight artillery in May, 1505, and has therefore been fortuitione years in the service of the United States; and during that time has been orderessful in every thins be undertook. In finded in no dury, excased biunelf from no service, been present on the most important eight and party to some of the most important eight as well as milliany transactions. In that time in has everywhere, and in every place, been obedidient to the civil law; been observant of all the duties of humanity; been true to every oblication of a chizer and a most been the friend of peace rather than of war; and on three remarks able coastons aided in posserving the peace and tranquillity of the country.

A brief smaller, of his public services. In chromological order, the pincipal events of his life may be thus stuted:

A Good Letter.—Hon. J. A. Pearce, U.S. Senator from Maryland, returned an answer to the invitation to attend the Scott Ratification meeting at Washington, in which he says:

"Instead of my presence, please to accept the assurance of my determination to give a cordial and earnest support to the ticket nominated by the Whig Convention.

I have entire conditioned in both the nomicees, and having long known Gen. Scott's intelligence, hence, patriotism, and true American spirit, I feel assured that to the unsurpassed satlaxyra and skill, which have given him renown as the first soldier of the Union, he would, so Chief Magistrate, add the crowning glory of the purest fidelity to the Constitution and he country.

It is supposed that his death resulted from discase of the heart, though we understand that he is always been a man of sound health, and was not aware of the existence of any difficulty in the region of the heart or any other portion of the street man for many years in the street. He was 50 years of ago—had been an staire business man for many years in Western New York, where he was highly respected, and where a large circle of friends will deep it lament his death. Though away from home, he was in the midst of his friends at the time of his death, and every attention was given him, that he could possibly have received had he been at home. # The Confegration at Montreal.

Burlington, July 10. Burlington, July 10.

The terrible confisgration at Montreal is still reging furiously. The light can be distinctly seen can this place, though 100 miles distant. The inguammenced on Thursday, A. M., the 8th, and inscended on Thursday, A. M., thou Montreal desired as the property of the section as a wild in the section as a wild in the section as a wild. The famous were reging achetical: hundreds and thousands of families were vandering about without a shelter to cover them. The sparks and burning embers were flying almost a wild whele and the stimpossible to product when and whele and reducing the stop.

The supply of water has given out, and theirtense heat prevented the firemen or citizens from approaching the scene. Every one seams struck with terror, and as the wind was very high, it was feared that he replay the whole rity would full to schee. At the point of leaving, our informant states that the space of ground covered by the fire was larger than the city of Troy.

The telegraph poles were burned down, which prevents communication with Montreal for some time.

There has never been seen such a destructive configuration on this Continent. Millions of property has been destroyed. 2d. Despatch. -

11 A. M. We learn from passengers by the cars, who left Montreal this morning, that the fire has at last term subdued. The whole number of buildings descroyed was 1,200. It was impossible to estimate the loss. Distressing Accident at Two Rivers.

Distressing Accident at Two Rivers.

A rery unfortunate accident occurred at Two Rivers on Monday, during the celebration. After the Declaration had been read, and while the choir were singing an ode, a dreadful explosion was heard, which completely startled and terrified the midence. It seems that the camon had been stationed by the flag staff, on the public square, a few hondred yards of where the exercises were going forward. The persons to charge of the gun had opened for their own convenience, two kegs of powder, which remained exposed. A large number of boys had gathered near them, who were armsing themselves with fire crackers, and as might be supposed, one found its way into powder, causing a tearful explosion. A boy was sented on one of the kegs, and was blown several feet in the air without injury. About a dozen others were more or less burned, some dangerously and others but slightly. The wounded boys presented a heart-randing sight, some of them being so tadly burned that the skin dropped from their hands and faces. A collection was immediately taken for the reluct of such as might need it, which will be distributed for their equal benefit. One. White and Zielly were promptly on the ground affording such aid as was in their power and every effort was used to relieve their sufferings.

The exposure of powder in the manner described is of itself a sufficient commont upon the event. It is one of the most unperdonable illustrations of carelessness on record, and is so regarded by those whose opinions we have heard expressed. Since writing the above we regret to learn that the widow Eldridge's son, and a French boy, whose name we could not ascertain, have died.—

Mantonce Herald.

Distribution of the Public Donain.—As will be seen under our Congressional head, Bennett's Bill granting government lands to the States for Railroad and educational purposes, passed the States of the States of the States.

Railroad and educational purposes, passed the House on the 26th ult.

This, if it passes the Senate, which is generally thought will be the case, will be perhaps the most important measure entered into by Congress sines the administration of Jackson.

The rote on the final passage of the bill shows that the members were pretty equally divided in sentiment upon the subject—it being 96 to 96.—Considerable oppsition is also felt relative thereto, by the citizene throughout the States. Many of our exchanges have been bitterly opposed to it and now condemn the act.

General Jackson, with a majority of the party, held that it was unconstitutional to give the public meney for local improvements. That was sound policy at that time. But there is a broad distinction Denocracy and Conservatism; too often for soften.

We may be a little selfish, but do most heartily eaution the measure, as not only wise and pro-duction the measure, as not only wise and pro-piction of oniversal benefit to the American peo-ple, but, being universal in its tendency, we can-not but consider it purely democratic.—Janesville Standard (Democrat).
